

DIMITRIS KOUTSOTHEODOROS

He is a member of the Scientific Committee of Production & Management Engineers (PME) at the TCG and has served as a member of the Steering Committee of TCG (2024-25), President of PME Panhellenic Association, General Secretary and BD member for many years.

He was the official representative of the Dipl. PME in the Committee that negotiated and acquired the rights for the specialty with PD 99/2018.

He is a consultant for co-financed programs specializing in wholesale trade, logistics and manufacturing, a consultant for investment activities of Greek and international funds in new and start-up entrepreneurship, also providing mentoring/coaching services independently or through organizations and preparing businesses for participation in public tender procedures.

Operates in the energy saving field with the design and installation of building automation/BMS systems, air conditioning/ventilation, RES management, technological studies, licensing, and facility organization.

Participates in business schemes that provide services to the Public/Local Government for the adoption of modern smart cities solutions and remote monitoring/controlling systems for public utility networks.

He has served as Chairman of the Board of Directors of public bodies and for many years as an associate of the University of the Aegean. He has served as a member of the Supreme Council for Supply Chain Development (2016-2019).

He is a graduate of the School of PME of Technical University of Crete, with a Master's Degree from the School of Environmental Engineering.